

Brain Quiz

So, what do you know about that soft humanoid mass that is housed in your skull?

- The normal brain weighs about:
 - a fifth of a pound
 - 1 pound
 - 3 pounds
 - 8 pounds
- The brain is about 2% of your body weight and uses what percent of your body's energy?
 - 1%
 - 5%
 - 10%
 - 20%
- How many neurons does a human brain have?
 - 100,000
 - 4 million
 - 10 billion
 - 100 billion
- The brain operates:
 - Chemically
 - Electrically
 - Both
 - Has its own unique power source
- The brain receives information from:
 - The spinal cord
 - The endocrine system
 - The five sense organs
 - All of the above
- The brain uses this many gallons of blood per hour:
 - 2 gallons
 - 4 gallons
 - 8 gallons
 - 10 gallons
- The human brain has this many LOBES:
 - 2
 - 3
 - 4
 - 6
- The brain experiences pain:
 - true
 - false
- Memories are stored in specific locations in the brain:
 - true
 - false
- After conception, primitive brain cells begin to form during this time period:
 - 1 week
 - 4 weeks
 - 8 weeks
 - 4 months
- The late teen years are when the human brain reaches its maturity:
 - true
 - false